

STYLEBEAT

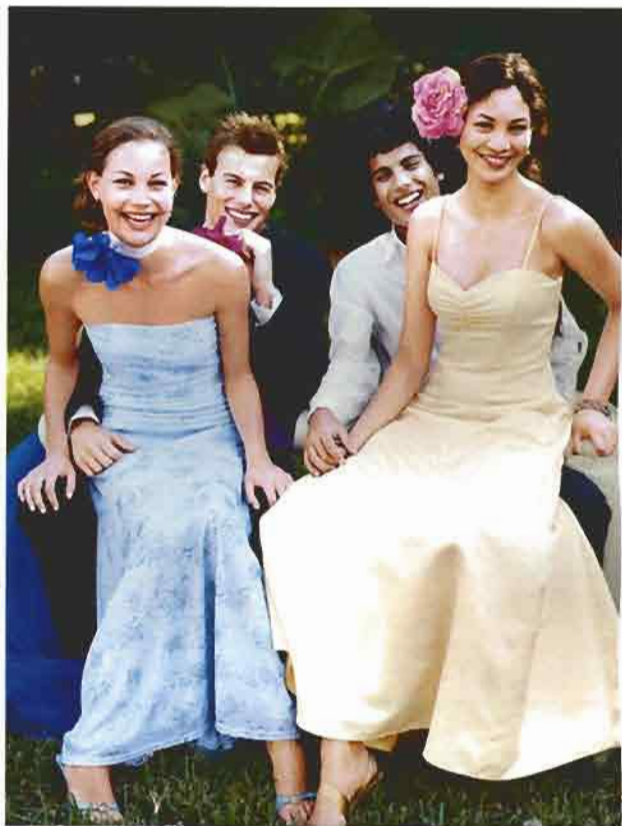

OPEN SEASON

Falling in love is a beautiful thing, but it can be a bit of a challenge when it comes to finding the perfect gift. The key is to think about what your partner would love to have. It could be something simple, like a nice bottle of wine, or something more elaborate, like a weekend getaway. The important thing is to show your love and appreciation for your partner. A thoughtful gift is a sure way to make your partner feel special.

When it comes to gifts, there are a few things to keep in mind. First, think about your partner's interests. If they love reading, a new book would be a great gift. If they love cooking, a nice kitchen appliance would be perfect. Second, think about your budget. There are gifts for every budget, so don't worry if you can't afford something expensive. A thoughtful gift is more important than the price tag.

Remember, the most important thing is to show your love. A gift is just a way to say "I love you." So, whatever you decide to get, make sure it comes from the heart. Your partner will appreciate the thought and effort you put into it.

So, if you're looking for a gift for your partner, think about what they would love to have. It could be something simple or something more elaborate, but the most important thing is to show your love. A thoughtful gift is a sure way to make your partner feel special.

When it comes to formal events, there are a few things to keep in mind. First, think about the occasion. Is it a wedding, a formal dinner, or a gala? Second, think about the venue. Is it indoors or outdoors? Third, think about the weather. You'll want to dress appropriately for the conditions. Finally, think about your budget. There are formal dresses for every budget, so don't worry if you can't afford something expensive. A beautiful dress is more important than the price tag.

CLOSET CASE

When it comes to your closet, there are a few things to keep in mind. First, think about what you need. Do you have enough clothes for the season? Second, think about what you like. Do you have clothes that you love to wear? Third, think about your budget. There are clothes for every budget, so don't worry if you can't afford something expensive. A well-stocked closet is more important than the price tag.

Remember, the most important thing is to wear what makes you feel confident and beautiful. Your closet should be a place where you can find the perfect outfit for every occasion.

So, if you're looking to update your closet, think about what you need and what you like. It could be something simple or something more elaborate, but the most important thing is to wear what makes you feel confident and beautiful.

Remember, your closet is a reflection of your style. So, make sure it's a closet that you love to look into every day.

So you've wasted an hour searching for the perfect card to top your cute gift.

Jolie Vie greeting card

Corona del Mar clothing designer Rocio Soler feels your pain. Frustrated by the lack of fashionable cards, she launched her own greeting card company Jolie Vie or Pretty Life. (You may already know her tiny-but-neat clothing line Cio). She wants to replace "yucky old-school cards" and update them with modern themes like shopping, dieting and duh, manicures. Look for the smaller handmade division at select boutiques, where she customizes cards with Barbie-sized clothing and accessories. For O.C., think tube tops and clutches; L.A., it's tunics over jeans, and rock-star sparkly tops for the Vegas market. Available locally at Francis Oar, Corona del Mar and Sydney Michelle on Balboa Island. For