

2 great new french lines

These European brands are available here for the first time, and they both get summer dresses exactly right.

BA&SH

Childhood friends Barbara Boccara and Sharon Krief started this line with one goal in mind: to make sweet, unfussy dresses in natural fabrics like cotton, silk, and lush tissue cashmere.

MAJE

Judith Milgrom's collection is a hot seller at Galeries Lafayette in Paris—her pieces all have a low-key sexiness and use vintagey fabrics that transition effortlessly from day to night.

Despite their substantial looks, these have to be the most lightweight leather bags we've ever found. Lindsey Colhoun (a former designer for Goldenbleu) makes her entire Deere Colhoun collection of super-soft leather lined with linen; not only are the results fabulously easy to carry, they've got a terrific earthy-chic vibe.
